

BUILD YOUR OWN AFFORDABLE HOME

Single plot rural exception sites explained

What are single plot rural exceptions sites?

Monmouthshire County Council positively encourages local people to build their own affordable home to meet their own housing needs – so long as the site is in a recognisable rural settlement and its future value is controlled so that it remains affordable to other local people in the future. Sites may be permitted in rural areas outside existing settlement limits as an exception to the normal planning policies that restrict housing development in such areas.

Is it only affordable housing which is allowed?

Yes. We make an exception to normal planning policies only because there is a pressing need in Monmouthshire to help provide local people with affordable housing in rural areas. Open Market housing development continues to be strictly controlled outside existing settlement limits, as set out in the adopted Local Development Plan.

So what is the catch?

Single plot rural exception sites are only permitted with restrictions. These are:

- The value of the property is based on a standard cost of construction plus a nominal plot value. This typically works out at around 60% of open market value. A legal agreement is used to ensure that future sale of the property is capped at this percentage of market value forever. The value of the affordable property will then rise (or fall) directly in proportion to the housing market.
- The property cannot be larger than 100 square metre gross internal floor area. This includes any integral or attached garage. Normal permitted development rights will be removed so that express permission has to be sought for any future extensions.
- The house must be built to exacting quality and design standards, meeting the Lifetime Homes standards and satisfying the sustainable construction, energy and water efficiency aspects of level 3 of the Code for Sustainable Homes. It must be sympathetically designed in relation to its setting, particularly as it is being granted permission as an exception to normal planning policies.

Can anyone apply?

To obtain planning permission, the applicant must satisfy Monmouthshire County Council that:

- The site is in a suitable location.

And

- The initial occupier of the affordable home is in housing need and has a strong local connection.

How do I apply for planning permission?

The application should be made by the prospective occupier of the proposed affordable dwelling. You need to do some groundwork before you make the planning application, contacting the following in this order:

1. First, you should contact the Senior Strategy and Policy Officer in Housing & Communities. This officer will liaise with the planning department on your behalf to establish whether your site is considered to be in a suitable location. Sites must be in locations that demonstrably form part of a recognisable named settlement. Please note that development in the open countryside, isolated from any recognisable settlement, will not be permitted.
2. If the site appears to have potential, the Senior Strategy and Policy Officer in Housing Services will arrange to interview you to establish whether or not you are in housing need and have a strong local connection. Existing homeowners with particular issues can still be eligible where it can be shown that their existing property is not suitable for their ongoing needs, and they have a strong local connection.
3. You will then be asked to approach your Community Council for confirmation of your local connection. At this stage, the Community Council should limit itself to confirming facts about the applicant's personal connection to the local area. When a planning application is made, the Community Council will be consulted in the normal manner for its comments on the proposed site and design.
4. Once you have obtained a preliminary "green light" from the above and you are confident that you can fund the project, you have some assurance that it is worthwhile employing an architect or builder to draw up your building plans. It is sensible to discuss the emerging design with the Planning Officer before making your planning application, to establish whether it is likely to be found acceptable.

Finally, you are ready to make a planning application.

The Application Process

Who can apply?

Because planning permission is granted as an exception to normal policies, the Council must ensure that the affordable homes will genuinely meet local housing need. To do so, the Council will assess the housing need and the local connection of the prospective occupier. Consequently, applicants must normally be the prospective occupiers of the proposed dwelling. This does not prevent the applicant from using an agent to help them to submit the planning application.

Speculative applications from landowners and developers will not be successful, because they cannot identify with certainty the prospective occupants. The eligibility of the occupants is critical to the decision to allow development as an exception to normal planning policies.

Build Your Own Affordable Home: Single Plot Rural Exception Sites

It is recognised that in Monmouthshire the price of housing has risen to a level beyond that which many local people can afford. Therefore, the need for affordable housing is one of the Council's more pressing concerns, both in urban and rural areas.

The single plot rural exceptions scheme is a self-help solution that enables families to use their own resources to provide affordable housing that meets their needs within their community. The construction of such affordable housing is funded from householders' own resources, which can include the sale of existing property as well as through a commercial mortgage. Utilising the resources of those families who are able to provide new affordable housing to meet their own needs means that the local community benefits over the long term from an increased stock of local affordable homes.

Monmouthshire County Council is able to allow the development of affordable housing through the use of single plot rural exception sites under policy H7(Affordable Housing Rural Exceptions) of the existing adopted Local Development Plan.

Extracts from Monmouthshire County Council's Local Development Plan

Policy S1 – The Spatial Distribution of New Housing Provision

The villages that are considered most likely to be suitable for single plot rural exception sites are those identified as Main and Minor Villages in Policy S1 of the Local Development Plan. Proposals in villages and hamlets not identified in Policy S1 of the Local Development Plan will not comply with Policy H7. These are minor settlements where new residential development will not normally be allowed because of their small size and sporadic nature and often because of the potential harm that development would cause to their open, rural character and/or sensitive landscape setting. Each proposal will be treated on its merits, however, and you are encouraged to discuss your site with the Senior Strategy and Policy Officer in Housing Services.

Policy H7 – Affordable Housing Rural Exceptions

H7 Favourable consideration will be given to the siting of small affordable housing sites in rural areas adjoining the Rural Secondary Settlements, Main Villages and Minor Villages identified in Policy S1 that would not otherwise be released for residential development provided that all the following conditions are met:

- (a) The scheme would meet a genuine local need (evidenced by a properly conducted survey or by reference to alternative housing need data) which could not otherwise be met in the locality (housing needs sub-area);
- (b) Where a registered social landlord is not involved, there are clear and adequate arrangements to ensure that the benefits of affordable housing will be secured for initial and subsequent occupiers; and
- (c) The proposal would have no significant adverse impact on village form and character and surrounding landscape or create additional traffic or access problems.

With regard to criterion (a) the local need for single plot rural exceptions sites will be established through the tests set out in this information pack.

Suitability of Location

Whilst wishing to address affordable housing needs in the rural areas, the Council must balance this with the need to promote sustainable patterns of development and to protect the open countryside from widespread development. In this respect, the Council considers that there will be cases where these wider environmental and sustainability interests will take precedence over the economic and social sustainability issues surrounding affordable housing.

Design

Proposals for single plot rural exception sites will need to comply with the current adopted Local Development Plan policies. As these potential sites will usually be outside the areas normally considered suitable for residential development, it is especially important to achieve an appropriate design. In this respect, full applications will be required for single plot rural exception sites and an early dialogue with Planning Officers is therefore essential.

Policy DES 1 – General Design Considerations

DES1 All development should be of a high quality sustainable design and respect the local character and distinctiveness of Monmouthshire's built, historic and natural environment. Development proposals will be required to:

- (a) Ensure a safe, secure, pleasant, and convenient environment that is accessible to all members of the community, supports the principles of community safety and encourages walking and cycling;
- (b) Contribute towards sense of place whilst ensuring that the amount of development and its intensity is compatible with existing uses.
- (c) Respect the existing form, scale, siting, massing, materials and layout of its setting and any neighbouring quality buildings.

- (d) Maintain reasonable levels of privacy and amenity of occupiers of neighbouring properties where applicable.
- (e) Respect built and natural views and panoramas where they include historical features and/or attractive or distinctive built environment or landscape.
- (f) Use building techniques, decoration, styles and lighting to enhance the appearance of the proposal having regard to texture, colour, pattern, durability and craftsmanship in the use of materials.
- (g) Incorporate existing features that are of historical, visual or nature conservation value, and use the vernacular tradition where appropriate.
- (h) Include landscape proposals for new buildings and land uses in order that they integrate into their surroundings, taking into account the appearance of the existing landscape and its intrinsic character, as defined through the LANDMAP process. Landscaping should take into account, and where appropriate retain, existing trees and hedgerows;
- (i) Make the most efficient use of land compatible with the above criteria, including that the minimum net density of residential development should be 30 dwellings per hectare, subject to criterion (l) below;
- (j) Achieve a climate responsive and resource efficient design. Consideration should be given to location, orientation, density, layout, built form and landscaping and to energy efficiency and the use of renewable energy, including materials and technology;
- (k) Foster inclusive design;
- (l) Ensure that existing residential areas characterised by high standards of privacy and spaciousness are protected from overdevelopment and insensitive or inappropriate infilling.

Where an applicant owns land which could provide a number of possible sites, the Council will seek to utilise the most environmentally sustainable and appropriate site as advised by the Council. Applicants are therefore strongly advised to discuss the alternatives at an early stage, and follow the advice given by the case Planning Officer.

Layout

The dwelling size should not exceed 100 square metre gross internal floor space (i.e. a simple measurement of floor space between internal walls) and overall plot size must be appropriate in terms of the general pattern of development in the surrounding area, but not normally exceeding 0.1 ha.

Sites which form part of the curtilage of an existing property must provide an appropriately sized plot for the new dwelling. In this respect, it will be important to achieve a ratio of dwelling size to overall plot size which is in keeping with surrounding properties. Such sites must also respect the existing character and setting of the original property, so as not to adversely alter the character or create a cramped form of development.

Materials of construction should be sympathetic to those in use locally.

Attached garages will count against the 100 square metres. It is appreciated, however, that there will generally be a need for garaging and for ancillary buildings to store gardening equipment, garden furniture etc. The size of such outbuildings will be strictly controlled. Detached garages of appropriate dimensions and height may be permitted if they are not intrusive upon the wider locality, reflect the local rural vernacular in both style and materials and remain subordinate to, and do not detract from, the character and appearance of the main dwelling. They should be sited as unobtrusively as possible, to the side or rear of the dwelling. Outbuildings should be modest in size and sensitively located.

Applications for single plot rural exception sites should include details of any proposed garages and outbuildings in order that the overall impact of a scheme can be fully assessed. The Council will need to be satisfied at the time of the original application that adequate ancillary garages and storage space can be achieved for the dwelling in order to avoid pressure for further, possibly harmful, development at some future date. If overlarge outbuildings are required then this could result in a reduction in the size of dwelling that might be allowable if this is necessary to limit the overall impact of the development in the landscape.

Housing Need and Strong Local Connection

Applicants will need to demonstrate that they are unable to afford a suitable home currently available in the locality.

Housing need is demonstrated if the household unit has no home of its own, or is renting from a housing association but would like to become an owner-occupier, or is in unsuitable accommodation. For example:

- the current housing may be too large or too small for the household
- be in a poor state of repair
- be too costly for the household to maintain or sustain.

- be in a location that is a long way from existing employment, schools or support networks and that the cost or availability of transport is prohibitive to the particular household

Strong local connections with the settlement in question will need to be demonstrated by the household (Appendix A). These include working locally, residing locally, or having family members who need support in the local area.

Assessments of whether a household is in housing need or not, has strong local connections and is unable to afford a suitable home in the locality will be made by the Council's Housing Services following completion of a standard form and submission of supporting documentation. Applicants will be expected to be proactive in obtaining confirmation of their local connection from the Community Council.

Purchasers of the property in the future must also meet the local needs criteria in Appendix A. As a requirement of the section 106 legal agreement, the property cannot change hands without the written consent of Monmouthshire County Council. This will only be forthcoming if the Council is satisfied that the new purchaser has a strong local connection as defined in the section 106 legal agreement.

Affordable in Perpetuity

Rural exception sites are permitted in order to benefit the long term sustainability of the community, and as such it is important that the property remains affordable for successive occupiers for the lifetime of the building. To achieve this, the model section 106 legal agreement in Appendix C puts a Restriction on the Title of the property, to the effect that the property cannot change hands without the written consent of Monmouthshire County Council. The Land Registry will effectively enforce this provision, as it will not be possible for a solicitor to register a new ownership with the Land Registry without the appropriate letter from Monmouthshire County Council.

A draft section 106 legal agreement should be submitted with the planning application, with agreed heads of terms in accordance with those attached at Appendix C. The section 106 agreement must be ready for all parties to sign by the time the application is ready for decision by the Council.

The "formula price" of the affordable property will be determined by the cost of construction as set out on page 10 of this pack, plus a nominal plot value of £10,000, expressed as a percentage of open market value. Extraordinary construction costs will only be taken into account at the discretion of the local planning authority, where such costs can be robustly justified as unavoidable.

The future sale of the property will be subject to the fixed percentage of open market value as detailed in the section 106 agreement. There is no scope for it to enter into the open housing market without recycling of proceeds.

In order to ensure that dwellings remain affordable, a dwelling size restriction will be imposed. The size of dwellings will normally be restricted to no more than 100 square metre gross internal floor space, with a curtilage not exceeding 0.1 ha.

Furthermore, permitted development rights to extend properties in the future will be removed by planning condition, in order to ensure that the Council retains control over the future affordability of the property. Future values will, in any event, be based on original floor space and exclude later additions.

Standard Conditions for Rural Exception Sites

In order to provide a consistent and manageable approach to rural exception sites. Monmouthshire County Council proposes to use standard conditions on all rural exception sites that ensure:

- sustainable construction, energy and water efficiency aspects equivalent to level 3 of the Code for Sustainable Homes will apply to all schemes
- meeting Lifetime Homes Standards will apply to all schemes

Standard Conditions for Single Plot Rural Exception Sites

In addition, standard conditions for single plot rural exception sites will include:

- restrictions on size of the property (to not exceed 100 square metres)
- removal of permitted development rights so that express permission has to be sought for any future extension, including garage and carport extensions

In the majority of cases, 100 square metres is adequate for a family of five persons. Larger properties are, by definition, more expensive and run counter to the primary aim of ensuring affordability.

Permitted development rights of the affordable dwellings will normally be removed to ensure that properties are not extended or altered in any way as to increase values beyond an affordable level. Exceptions will only be made where clearly justified. The normal permitted development rights will not prevent consideration of adaptations or extensions in certain circumstances, for instance, where required by an occupant with disabilities or to accommodate appropriate extensions for family growth.

The Council recognises that some households will need more space, for example to cater for very large families. Where an application is received to amend or remove a standard condition, the applicant will be expected to demonstrate that the household's needs are genuine. The national definition of overcrowding (Appendix C) will be a factor in assessing what size of property is justified. The needs of disabled residents for physical space (for wheelchairs, etc.) will also be taken into account.

Site Suitability Guidelines

The Local Development Plan (LDP) enables Monmouthshire County Council to allow affordable housing on sites that would not obtain planning permission for open market housing, as an exception to normal planning policies.

The site, however, must be in a location that demonstrably forms part of a recognisable named settlement. Sites that would constitute isolated or sporadic development, or which would adversely affect the landscape or rural character, are not considered acceptable and will be refused planning permission in line with existing LDP policies.

Calculating the Formula Price

Affordable housing that is granted as an exception to normal planning policies must remain affordable for ever. This is achieved through a section 106 legal agreement, which defines what the “formula price” is for the affordable property.

The price for affordable housing that is built on a single plot rural exception site is calculated from standard construction costs and a nominal plot value. This is expressed as a percentage of market value to create the “formula price”.

The nominal plot (land) value applied is £15,000 per building plot.

The standard Cost of Construction that applies is £1,644 per square metre.

These figures apply regardless of the actual build or land cost. The combined total of these figures is the initial affordable value.

The initial affordable value is then converted into a percentage of the property’s potential Open Market Value (i.e. the property’s value if it were not subject to the affordability restrictions in the section 106 legal agreement). This percentage is the “formula price”.

The formula price determines how much the property could be sold for in the future. As it is a percentage of open market value, it will go up or down in line with market prices.

Worked Example

In this example, the affordable property is a 3 bed house of 98 square metres in size. The value is based on the gross internal floor space (i.e. a simple measurement of the floor space between the internal walls. Each floor of the property is included – in our example, the ground floor is 49 square metres and the first floor is 49 square metres.

One builder has quoted £153,000, another builder has quoted £155,000 and a third builder has quoted £162,000. The actual construction price is irrelevant, because the property’s affordable value is based on a formula price. Instead the affordable value will be calculated as follows. The formula for the initial affordable value is: standard cost of construction x floor space + nominal plot value:

$$\begin{aligned} &= (\mathbf{£1,644 \times 98 \text{ sqm}}) + \mathbf{£15,000} \\ &= \mathbf{£161,112 + £15,000} \\ &= \mathbf{£176,112} \end{aligned}$$

Let us assume that the market value for a 3 bed property in this location is £275,000 (actual value to be based on an independent surveyor’s/estate agent’s valuation of the property).

Formula price equals nominal cost as a proportion of market value:

$$\begin{aligned} &= \mathbf{176,112/275,000} \\ &= \mathbf{64\%} \end{aligned}$$

The section 106 legal agreement would therefore specify the formula price as 64% of open market value. Future sale of the property must be at 64% of whatever the open market value is at that point in time. Thus the property will go up or down in value in line with market prices.

If You Need to Sell in the Future

The value of the property is set in the section 106 legal agreement, as a percentage of open market value.

Resale of the property must be to a marketing plan that has been agreed with the Council, as required by the legal agreement. It must be offered for sale at the formula price for six months. Persons wishing to purchase the property must meet the Council's criteria for being in housing need (see Appendix A).

Over six months, the pool of potential purchasers widens from the local area, then Monmouthshire-wide, then to the Council or one of the Council's nominated partners and finally to anyone else. This is known as the cascade mechanism. The details of which are specified in the section 106 legal agreement for the property.

In the highly unlikely event of an owner being unable to sell at the formula price in this six month period, he/she may apply to have the formula price removed. If the Council agrees to its removal, then half of the difference between the affordable and the open market value will be recouped by the Council and used towards the provision of affordable housing elsewhere.

These requirements have been reached in discussion with mortgage lenders to ensure that they satisfy most mortgage lenders' criteria. They provide a balance between trying to ensure that affordable properties remain affordable in perpetuity, prioritising local people, and minimising the financial risks for lenders.

Lifetime Homes Standards

All affordable homes must be built to the lifetime homes standard to ensure that they are accessible and can be easily adapted should their occupiers experience mobility difficulties in the future. Homes built to this standard are "future-proofed" not only for the potential needs of their occupiers, but also for the needs of visiting friends and relatives. The Lifetime Homes standard requires the following:

Access

1. Where car parking is adjacent to the home, it should be capable of enlargement to attain 3.3metres width.
2. The distance from the car parking space to the home should be kept to a minimum and should be level or gently sloping.
3. The approach to all entrances should be level or gently sloping (Gradients for paths should be the same as for public buildings in the Building Regulations).
4. All entrances should be illuminated and have level access over the threshold and the main entrance should be covered.

Inside the Home

5. The width of internal doorways and halls should conform to Part M of the Building Regulations, except where approach is not head on and the hallway is less than 900mm clear width, in which case the door should be 900mm rather than 800mm wide. Entrance level doorways should have a 300mm nib or wall space adjacent to the leading edge of the door.
6. There should be space for the turning of wheelchairs in kitchens, dining areas and sitting rooms and adequate circulation space for wheelchair users elsewhere.
7. The sitting room (or family room) should be at entrance level.
8. In houses of two or more storeys, there should be space on the ground floor that could be used as a convenient bed space.
9. There should be a downstairs toilet which should be wheelchair accessible, with drainage and service provision enabling a shower to be fitted at any time.
10. Walls in bathrooms and toilets should be capable of taking adaptations such as handrails.
11. The design should incorporate provision for a future stair lift and a suitably identified space for potential installation of a through-the-floor lift from the ground to the first floor, for example to a bedroom next to the bathroom.
12. The bath/bedroom ceiling should be strong enough, or capable of being made strong enough, to support a hoist at a later date. Within the bath/bedroom wall provision should be made for a future floor to ceiling door, to connect the two rooms by a hoist.
13. The bathroom layout should be designed to incorporate ease of access probably from a side approach, to the bath and WC. The wash basins should also be accessible.

Fixtures and Fittings

14. Living room window glazing should begin at 800mm or lower, and windows should be easy to open/operate.
15. Switches, sockets and service controls should be at a height usable by all (i.e. between 600mm and 1200mm from the floor).

Do you qualify for affordable housing?

The Council wishes to make it as easy as possible for residents to be able to find out if they qualify for the ‘Build Your Own Single Plot’ affordable home.

Applicants must demonstrate:

That they have a suitable plot of land (this is assessed by a planning officer)

That they are in need of a house in the area and would contribute towards community sustainability

That they have strong local connections and need to live in the area where they propose to build

That they are unable to secure a suitable home currently available on the open market

What are the main housing need, local connection and affordability qualification criteria?

Local Housing Need	Strong Local Connections & Need to Live in the Local Area	Affordability and Availability of Housing in the Area
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No home of your own – e.g. living with your parents • Current housing not suitable for current needs • Housing Association tenant but would like to become an owner-occupier 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Parents are permanent residents in the area • Parents were permanently resident in the area at the time of the applicants birth and applicant was a permanent resident of the area for 5 continuous years as a child • Currently living in the area and have been for 5 continuous years • Currently employed in the area • Have an offer of work in the area • Applicant needs to live in the area to care for a relative or receive support/childcare 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If buying your mortgage should not be more than 25% of your gross household income • If renting, your rent should be less than 25% of your income • Your total household income is not large enough to buy a suitable house on the open market • There are no suitable properties in the area
